Queer Wrinkles.
BETTER LATE THAN NEVER.
Old Mr. Bently (reading the paper)—I see that Solomon has been indicted for bigamy. Old Mrs. Bently—Well, it's 'bout time. The idea of a man having 700 wives.
HOME, SWEET HOME.
Lady (looking at Harlem flat)—The rooms seem very small. Janitor (frankly)—Yes, but the rooms are small for a fact. Lady—I don't see how my husband, baby and I could ever go to bed in that room. Janitor—You might do as the other lady an' amonied did what occupied de rooms befo'. Lady—How was that? Janitor—Dey went ter bed tandem.

WRONGFULLY ACCUSED.
Magistrate (to prisoner)—Have you ever been arrested before, Uncle Rastus? Uncle Rastus—Yes, sah. Magistrate—How many times? Uncle Rastus—Well, 'bout fo'ty, I giss, but, yo' 'onah, one of dem times I wuzent convicted. Day proved me an' innocent as er new bo'n babe.

A SOVEREIGN REMEDY.
"Well, Sister Susan, Jane, I cert'nly am rejoiced dat yo' ain't got de tarryfied fever; but of yo' has jes' got common malarly, why, queenan's de ting fur dat. It tastes bad, but de wuss a mederin tastes do no' good it does you."

ALTOGETHER COMMANDABLE.
Mrs. Waldo, a Boston lady to her niece, visiting from Chicago—I am glad to know, Cicely, dear, that you are interested in literature.
Cicely—Yes, we have recently formed a club, you know. One member subscribes for Harper's, another for The Century, another for The Popular Science Monthly, and so on, and then we all go snacks.

IN THE FAMILY.
Magistrate—You are old enough to know better than to drink whisky, Uncle Rastus. Uncle Rastus—No, sah. I can't abide de dead finish; give her de French polish, even if it costs a little more.
New York Sun.

Facetiae.
A WICKED LITTLE BOY.
Bobby—Ma, you don't want me to play with wicked boys, do you? Mother—No, indeed, Bobby. Bobby—Well, if one little boy kicks another little boy, isn't it wicked for him to kick him back? Mother—Yes, Bobby, very wicked. Bobby—Then I don't play with Tommy White any more. He's too wicked. I kicked him this morning, and he kicked me back.

A QUESTION OF FINISH.
Miss Higgs—And what course would you wish your daughter to pursue—the dead languages and the severer studies, or French and deportment? Mrs. Vewer (whose husband has just retired from the furniture line with a fortune)—Oh, no! I can't abide the dead finish; give her the French polish, even if it costs a little more.

SUCCESSFUL ALL AROUND.
"Most everybody has his pet phrase, which he is apt to use upon all occasions. Mr. Hayseed's 'met with some success.' 'How are you getting on with your stock raising?' he was asked recently. 'Well,' he replied, 'I've met with some success in raisin' calves.' 'How is your oldest boy doing at school?' 'Well, he's meetin' with some success as a scholar.' 'He ought to be, for he's been well brought up. Your wife is a splendid woman, Mr. Hayseed.' 'Well, yes, the old lady has—met with some success as a female.'"

COMING TO THE RESCUE.
Visitor—How old are you, Willie? Willie—Six years old. Visitor—And when were you 6? Willie—I don't know. Visitor—Oh, Willie! a great big boy like you, and not know when you were 6 years old! Willie's Little Sister—I know when he was 6 years old. Visitor—There, Willie; your little sister knows. When was it, Sadie? Little Sister—On his birthday.

A DOG'S UNFORTUNATE MISTAKE.
"Yes," said Mr. Hendricks to the minister, "I am proud of that dog. Why, he knows the different days of the week." Just then the dog began to run to a gun which stood in the corner, then back to his master, and wag his tail. "He's made a mistake this time, pa," said young Bobby; "he thinks it's Sunday."

WHY THEY KISSED ADAM AND EVE.
He was one of those men who are always and forever harping on how differently his mother used to do things. Apropos of the irritating subject, at dinner one day she said, with a sigh: "My dear, you've no idea how I envy Eve!" "And why, pray?" "Because, my dear, she never once heard Adam say, with exasperating frigidity, 'These pines lack the flavor of those my mother baked.' "And I know some married men who must envy Adam, for he didn't even hear what a mother-in-law was!"—Harper's Bazar.

A phenologist says that fulness under the eye denotes language. The phenologist must have run across a man who told some body else he lied.—Drake's Magazine.
"Brown as a berry" is an adjective chestnut that should be shelved. Berries are not brown, but red.—East End Bulletin. This is especially true of black berries.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Some men are born bogs, some achieve boggliness, and some never learn to chew tobacco at all.—Davenport Breeze.
When a couple are about to elope the young man asks: "Does your mother know your route?"—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

A correspondent asks: "Is it wrong to cheat a lawyer?" First cheat the lawyer, and then we will answer the conundrum.—Providence Telegraph.
